We've recently learned that some mailed tax payments have either been returned as undeliverable or delayed due to bottlenecks and staffing shortages at the U.S. Postal Service. As of September 14, 2021, our records indicate that we have yet to receive your tax payment. At C&N, we recognize that the mail system is out of your control and extend our apologies if its delays have created an inconvenience.

If your tax payment has been affected, we want to help alleviate some of that burden by presenting a solution you may wish to consider:

C&N Customers

- We can place a free stop payment on your outstanding check (waiving the $35 fee), reprint your tax notice for you and process a new payment in one of our offices.
- If you're unable to physically bring a replacement check to us, we can withdrawal funds from your C&N account and issue a cashier's check for free (waiving the $10 fee for a cashier's check). Simply connect with us at the contact information below.

Non-C&N Customers

- You can request that your bank place a stop payment on your outstanding check. If your bank charges you for the stop payment, C&N will reimburse that fee up to $40 in the form of a cashier's check.
- Simply bring your new payment to any C&N office. If you are unable to physically visit one of our offices, you can mail your new check along with property address or parcel number, your tax notice (if available) and your stop payment fee (if applicable) in the enclosed self-addressed stamped envelope or to:
